Trail of Woes Across the Fertile Fields of East Prussia.

VICTIMS OF TORTURE.

Men and Boys Put to Death by Invaders—House and Inmates Burned by Czar's Hordes.

Konigsberg, Oct. 14.—The Czar's Cossack hordes left a bruise, a bleeding trail of desolation and woe, across the fertile fields of East Prussia as they swept backward into their own land smarting under defeat from German arms.

Blasted lives of tortured men, women, and children, and of desolate homes are almost unbelievable.

Around Neidenburg, the Russian hordes satisfied their lust by violating scores of defenseless peasant women, some of them sixty and seventy years of age.

The countryside around this place, near the Russian frontier, where the Czar's forces for a time re-formed to fight against the overwhelming pressure of the German lines forcing them back, was ravaged terribly. The Russian soldiers took full revenge for their defeat on the women. Catholic sisters and young girls bore cruelties worse than torture of the battlefield, and were left dying as the hordes passed on.

The Russians killed every male they encountered who was of military age. The countryside has been stripped of all of its men between fourteen and forty-five. Older men, who feebly protested, were ruthlessly slaughtered.

Nor was this horror confined to the country near Neidenburg. The Russian investment of Konigsberg was accompanied by the same riot of lust. At Abschwangen, a tiny village ten miles from Konigsberg, fifty-seven men and women were shot, including eight boys between fourteen and nineteen.

Stories of some of those who witnessed the inferno of blood and slaughter and pillage.

The father of a fourteen-year-old boy, his eyes bloodshot with days of weeping, told how the Cossacks shot down eight little boys, one by one.

"They were not killed in one volley," he said "The Russians shot them one by one. My wife and myself got on our knees and prayed to God that our boy might be spared. We saw him, his hands outstretched to us in unavailing appeal, that we aid him. They bound my wife and myself together and forced us to see our own baby—for he was only a mere child—fall before their bullets, as he cried to us to aid him."

At Ortelsberg, those who witnessed the Russian retreat told how the Cossacks locked four defenseless persons, including a deaf and dumb man and a child of twelve in a house and then set fire to the building

LIGHTHOUSEKEEPER HERO.

Willis, of Point No Point, Commended for Double Rescue.

Washington, Oct. 14.—George M. Willis, Sr., keeper of Point No Point Light Station, Md., has been commended by Secretary Redfield for rescuing from drowning on September 26th last, Assistant Keeper Yeatman and his daughter.

Yeatman had gone ashore for the mail accompanied by his little daughter, and was about to step on to the station landing on his return when a heavy wave knocked them into the water. On coming to the surface, Yeatman caught the child in his arms and grasped a line which Willis had tossed him. Another huge wave caused the father to lose his grip on the line and the two went under for the second time. When they again reappeared Willis threw them another line and succeeded in saving both uninjured.

MATTERS BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL

Resolution Introduced Opposing Civil Police Justice for City.

TAX SALE ORDERED.

Trades Council Enters Protest Against Awarding Contract For New School to Outside Parties.

A number of matters, mostly of a miscellaneous nature, were considered at the regular meeting of the City Council last night.

The usual resolution providing for the sale at public auction on Monday, December 7, 1914, of all property in this city upon which taxes were due and unpaid on June 1, 1914, was introduced and referred to the finance committee.

The Trades Council of Alexandria sent in a petition protesting against the city awarding the contract for the erection of the proposed new high school building to parties outside of Alexandria. The petition was referred to the committees on public property and schools.

A resolution providing for placing names of streets on corners of the city was again introduced and referred to the committee on streets. This matter has been before Council at intervals during the past thirty years.

The official proceedings of both boards will be found elsewhere in the Gazette.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Seven Aldermen were present, and the business brought up was disposed of with but little discussion. The votes in each case were unanimous.

Mr. Hill, by request, introduced an ordinance providing for the compulsory inspection and measurement of lumber brought to Alexandria. The ordinance was referred to the committee on general laws. During the past twenty years the city law requiring this has not been enforced.

Mr. Summers introduced a resolution, which was adopted, appropriating $149.50 for rugs, curtains and electrical appliances for the new house of the Relief Hook and Ladder Company.

Mr. Ballenger introduced a resolution, which was referred to the committee on streets, instructing that committee to ascertain the cost of having the names of streets placed at the street intersections.

Mr. Summers introduced a resolution, which was referred to the committee on general laws, asking the Legislature of Virginia to repeal the act recently passed providing for a civil police justice for the city of Alexandria.

The action of the Common Council on all the papers sent in save one was concurred in. The committee on streets had recommended that the sum of $50 be appropriated for the use of the Alexandria Kindergarten, with the understanding that the money was to be expended in payment of the sewer tax for connecting to building on south Royal street now used by the Kindergarten, when the building shall cease to be used by the Kindergarten the city to disconnect the same.

Mr. Ballenger objected to this procedure, and upon his motion the petition of the Kindergarten was referred to the committees on finance and streets.

Common Council.

Council was called to order at 7:30 with twelve members present. Those absent were Messrs. C. S. T. Burke, Brumback, Brockett, and Lawler. Mr. Lawler came in later.

After the minutes was read and approved, the President announced the appointment of Mr. Marshall on the health committee in place of Mr. Bryan who had asked to be relieved.

M. F. Padgett as Secretary of Alexandria Trades Council, asked that local labor be used in the building of the new high school. This was referred to the committee on public property and schools.

The street committee recommended the appropriation of $275 for the building of a sewer on Duke street, east of Columbus street, and this was adopted.

William Desmond was granted permission to place iron porches in front of dwellings, 501, 503, and 505, Queen street.

The petition to reshingle 215 and 217 south Royal street, on the recommendation of the street committee, was not granted. Mr. Marshall saying that the present street committee was opposed to the renewal of any shingle roof within the fire limits.

The street committee asked the appropriation of $50 to reimburse the Free Kindergarten for the fee paid by them for tapping the sewer. Council agreed to this, but the Aldermen sent the matter to the finance committee and Council then agreed with the latter.

The street committee recommended that H. T. Beach and Bro. be granted permission to build certain sheds on north Royal street, provided that these sheds and all other sheds on the premises be roofed and sheeted with metal. This recommendation was adopted.

A resolution providing $950 for the resurfacing of such streets as are in need of resurfacing was passed after Mr. Marshall had explained that this work was vitally important, and must be done before freezing weather.

R. H. Massey was granted permission to enlarge his frame dwelling at 822 Queen street.

A petition asking for a sewer in the alley east from Fayette street, just south of King, was received. Mr. Marshall explained that conditions had arisen that made this necessary at once and introduced a resolution appropriating $250 for the work. This was passed.

R. C. Acton & Sons asked permission to erect a street clock on the curb in front of their place of business. This went to the committee on streets and general laws.

On motion of Mr. Lawler $30 was appropriated for a crossing at Prince and West streets.

A petition of Thomas Dyson asking reimbursement for a license of $10 paid in error was sent to the finance committee.

The usual ordinance empowering and directing the collector of taxes to sell property on which taxes are delinquent was introduced and referred to the finance committee.

A resolution directing the general laws committee to prepare for presentation to the legislature, a bill repealing that part of the law for the election of police justices, that applies to Alexandria was referred to the committee on general laws.

After concurring with the Aldermen in a few other matters, Council adjourned.

SAW WAY OUT OF JAIL.

Led by Diamond Robber, Make Daring Escape.

Kankakee, Ill., Oct. 14.—Nine prisoners sawed their way out of the county jail here last night, and from an upper window on a rope of blankets, and escaped. The delivery, it is said, was arranged by Charles Carney, suspected of being the leader in a recent diamond robbery at the home of Nellie Clark. The others were W. A. Norton, George L. Rickard, John Richards, Lawrence Sirion, John Kelly, George Loughran, Eugene Ware and Charles Robertson, all accused of robbery.

Four prisoners who refused to escape with the gang were threatened with death if they exposed the plot during the several days when the leaders were arranging it. They gave no sign until the last of he nine had disappeared through the windows, when Sheriff Dan Lee was notified by a series of yells.

Posses started at once in search of the fugitives.

REVOLUTION IN SOUTH AFRICA

Advices From Cape Town Say Union Troops Will Fight Rebels.

MARITZ IS LEADER.

Insurrectionary Army Said to be Composed of Fighting and Well Seasoned Veterans.

London, Oct. 14—Recovering from the first shock of the news that organized revolt now menaced British authority in South Africa, London today received word that from nearly every section of the union pledges were coming in fast from the Boers to fight the rebellion led by Colonel Maritz. As yet Cape Town has been unable even to estimate approximately the number of men who form the army under Colonel Maritz. It is admitted however, that the army is a fairly formidable one. The disloyal Boers comprising it are seasoned fighting men, veterans of several campaigns against the native. There is no way of telling the number of Germans. This force is now in the Northwest Cape province—the only section of the South African Union which is in the slightest degree affected by the lure of Colonel Maritz's new republic.

London does not believe that all of the Boer leaders with whom Maritz demanded permission to consult are disaffected. Beyers may be, but there is confidence expressed in dispatches from Cape Town that both Hertzog and De Wet will spurn any German offers through Maritz.

BANKERS' ASSOCIATION

Richmond, Oct., 14—Absolute confidence in the ultimate success of the Federal reserve system, tempered by a well-defined feeling that the time is not ripe for a general enrollment of State institutions—these were the dominant notes sounded in speeches and addresses made yesterday before the trust company and savings bank sections of the American Bankers' Association.

The attitude of the State banks and trust companies towards the Federal reserve system is one of "watchful waiting," said E. D. Hurlburt, vice president of the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company, of St. Louis. His views were communicated in an official letter to the convention read to the body by F. H. Goff, president of the trust company section, who presided over the joint session of the trust company and savings banks divisions.

COMPLAINT OF UNFAIR RATES.

State Corporation Commission Appeals to Interstate Commerce Commission for Relief.

Richmond, Oct. 14.—The State Corporation Commission will use its good offices toward seceuring for Virginia cities a modification of the freight tariff schedules which now place the business interest of this State at a disadvantage in competing with Louisville, Cincinnati, and other cities.

No previous action in the matter has been taken by the commission, the hearing not having been completed until the members of the commission went into conefrence yesterday morning.

DOUBLE ASSAULT.

Young Man and His Fiance Attacked By Negro.

Durham, N. C. Oct. 14—One of the most brutal crimes known in the history of this city was brought to light Sunday morning, when Miss Lula Powe was found in an unconscious condition in the small ravine back of Maplewood cemetery.

Lying upon her back with her head slightly pillowed upon the bloody coat of Mr. John Thomas, she was a deplorable sight. Her beautiful hair matted with blood and with her features nearly unrecognizable, due to blood and bruises, made the scene unlike any of its kind ever witnessed before in Durham. Surrounding her was her battered hat the coat of Mr. John Thomas, also a derby hat belonging to Mr. Thomas and her haircombs and pins. She was rushed to the automobile by Dr. Cheatham and Sheriff Harward and then speedily carried to the Watts Hospital to join Mr. Thomas who was found Saturday night.

Mr. Thomas, the fiancee of Miss Powe, was found Friday night in about the same condition as the young lady.

Miss Powe is the 23 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aleck Powe, who reside just back of Lakewood park. The family is one of the best in that community and Miss Powe herself is one of the city's most refined young ladies. She has lived in Durham practically all of her life.

When picked up by the officers Mr. Thomas stated that he had been knocked over the head and robbed by a gang of negroes. He stated that he did not know how much money he had with him, but that all of it was taken. He also stated that the other members of Miss Powe's family went to the fair Friday evening and that Miss Powe and himself went to the moving pictures. He remembered starting home, but as for what happened after that his mind is blank.

Miss Powe and Mr. Thomas have been engaged to be married for some time, according to the girl's parents, and have been going together for about three years.

There was evidently no attempt at criminal assault on the young lady Her clothing was not torn and the assault was entirely upon her head neck and shoulders.

KAISER'S HOSTS STILL PUSHING ON

Invaders in Great Force Pressing Toward English Channel.

BATTLE IMPENDING

Loss of Life on Both Sides Will Be Enormous—Country Flat and Almost Without Covering.

London, Oct. 14.—A dispatch from Madrid says that Portugal has declared war on Germany. The official press bureau here permits publication of the dispatch, but without guarantee of its authenticity.

Paris, Oct. 14.—One of the two German movements toward the channel seaports has been checked.

Following a fierce night engagement French and English troops occupied the town of Ypres directly in the path of the strong German force that has been attempting an encircling movement of the extreme French left.

In the center the allies are throwing their weight against the German lie in an effort to force the invaders to withdraw part of their strength from the right.

According to the official statement issued at Bordeaux at 3 o'clock this afternoon, gains have been made in the region of Berry-au-Bac and the allies are holding their own at other points along the entire line.

London, Oct 14—Germany's hosts are sweeping irresistibly onward toward Ostend and the sea coast

Cavalry engagements of great severity herald the approach of a titanic struggle on the outcome of which may rest the fate of the Teutonic invasion.

Less than a score of miles from the channel ports the skirmishers have been encountered by the allies cavalry and air scouts report that the invaders in great force are pressing forward under cover of the advance guard.

Hurrying masses of French, Belgian, and English troops are being centered for the impending battle on ground of their own choosing. Just where the fateful struggle will be waged is uncertain, as the censorship prohibits transmission, even approximately, of the allied position.

So nearly at hand is the great battle that the skirmishing of the advance guards is almost continuous That the loss of life on both sides will be enormous is certain. The entire stretch of country is monotonously flat and almost without cover.

One detail of the coming conflict slipped past the censor. The allies will have the advantage of intrenchments. All during the night thousands of men working with feverish haste under the direction of French engineers have burrowed into the ground and when the real engagement begins this advantage will rest with allies.

Realizing the supreme importance of cavalry in a battle of the character of the one impending, every available man of this branch of the armies is being hurried at top speed to join the re-enforcements rushed to aid the already force that stands between the Germans and the coast.

JURY SUBMITS REPORT

Cumberland, Md., Oct., 14—The October term grand jury yesterday submitted its report and was discharged. The report says in part:

"The suggestion is made by the grand jury that the present strict enforcement of the law prohibiting the sale of cigars, tobacco, periodicals soda water, ice-cream and refreshments of that harmless character on Sunday is working hardship to citizens as well as visitors to the large cities and country towns. As a matter of fact the law is not now and never has been enforced in any sense. It is a fact, proven by observation, however, that a restaurant or lunchroom is not prohibited from selling ice-cream or cigars on Sunday, and why the proprietor of a reputable drug store, cigar store or confectionery should be prohibited from selling what the restaurants and lunchrooms are allowed to sell is not quite clear to this grand jury. In our opinion the sanctity of the Sabbath Day is not interfered with to any extent. It is hoped that the representatives of the county in the General Assembly will take immediate steps to modify, if not eliminate entirely, this 'cerulean statute' which in our opinion has no proper place among our laws of the present day."

ALEXANDRIA LIBRARY

Old Alexandria Institution Still Operating Under Charter Issued in 1794.

The regular October meeting of the Board of Management of the Alexandria Library was held yesterday morning at the residence of Miss Emily Gibson.

Annual reports of the officers of the various committee, were read, and plans of great interest to the Library were outlined for the winter.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Samuel L. Monroe.

Vice President, Miss Loula Smoot.

Treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Smoot.

Secretary, Mrs. J. Stewart Jamieson.

Chairman, book committee, Miss Emily Gibson.

The library is entering upon its seventeenth year under the present management, having been organized September 27, 1897, by Miss Virginia Gorse, formerly of this city, and a number of ladies, some of whom are on the present Board of Management.

It is still operating under the old charter of the Alexandria Library Association, issued in 1794. On its shelves can be found many of the old books which were in the library at that time.

It seems not generally understood that the reading rooms are absolutely free, and the management is anxious to emphasize this point. There is no fee whatever for the privileges of the reading room, and the Librarian, Miss Alice Green, will be glad to welcome all who may desire to avail themselves of this opportunity. Current magazines and papers are on the table and many text books and encyclopedias which should be of benefit to the school children.

Mt. Vernon Chapter, D. A. R., has a genealogical shelf where may be found reference books of value. Access to these books may be had during library hours.

The circulation department subscription is $1.50 for single or $2.00 for double subscription for one year; 50 cents for three months, 25 cents for one month. The holder is entitled to take out one or two books every day if so desired.

The magazines can be taken out as books, after they have been on the reading room table one month.

Hours of the library—Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 3 to 5 p. m. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 7 to 9 p. m., Lee Camp Hall, Prince street.

NEWSPAPER EVANGELIST

Many People Gather at The Revival Meetings Now in Progress in Alexandria.

Evangelist Lee Starke, of New York, who left his position as one of the leading newspaper men of the country, to devote his life to the betterment of man is meeting with great success in this city.

Trinity Methodist Church was filled again last night to hear his address on, "I Love You." This was such a simple talk, and yet so full of love and power that it gripped the attention of his audience for over an hour. Mr. Starke is preaching with great earnestness and power to constantly increasing crowds. Many people from miles around, and from Baltimore and Washington are attending these meetings. The church from now on will no doubt be crowded to its fullest capacity.

The subject announced for the evangelist's talk tonight is, "Profit And Loss, or Would You Trade." Mr. Starke will talk for about fifteen minutes, and then the meeting will be thrown open for song and testimony and all Christians will be asked to voluntarily answer the question "Does it pay to be a Christian?" As this service is to be a mass meeting, all Christians are invited to come, and take part in the after meeting. Several of the churches are to close their prayer meetings early and attend the testimony meeting in a body, while the three Methodist Churches will have no prayer service at their churches tonight, but will make a union prayer meeting of the revival service. Great interest is being manifested in tonight's mass meeting and a vast crowd is expected, arrangements have been made for extra seats. A song service will be held in front of the church from 7:15 to 7:30. All Christians are invited to help in this out-door service.

MR. JOHNSTON'S VIEWS.

Editor Alexandria Gazette:

Reading your news item of yesterday in reference to my candidacy to Congress, I wish to say, that although I will not ask for nor do I expect any formal endorsement of my candidacy by the Progressive party, at the same time I will most highly appreciate any votes the members of that party may see fit to cast for me. Abolition of the liquor traffic is what I approve, and I want the support of all who agree with me.

Very Respectfully,
JAMES E JOHNSTON

WASHINGTON NIGHT AT MOOSE BAZAAR.

Martha Chapter Quartette And Columbia Lodge of Washington Attractions Last Night.

The second night of the Loyal Order of Moose Bazaar proved even more successful than the opening evening. Washington members of the Moose came to Alexandria on a special car, bringing over between forty-five and fifty of their members, together with the Martha Chapter Quartette, who favored the gathering with a number of selections.

The fraternal and college pillow booth were kept busy and most every one of the visitors carried home a pillow as a souvenir of the occasion.

The Martha Washington booth, which is arranged to represent Mt. Vernon, also sent out a number of packages to Washington. All the Washington contingent went home well supplied with all the good things which are numerous at the carnival.

Tonight the famous Salon Dansartes, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Leslie Holt, will give exhibitions of dances.

The American Indian Guard Band and the Alexandria Band will also be present.

ROAD GUARD KILLS MAN

Richmond Oct., 14—News was received in Richmond yesterady that William (Buddy) Thomas, the negro who nineteen years ago shot and totally blinded Policeman Percy G. Minor and was sentenced to serve a term of twenty years, was killed several days ago while resisting a guard of the road force in Botetourt County.

Thomas had only a few more months of his term to serve. He was recently released from the Penitentiary, his time having nearly expired and sent to the roads to complete it. The negro's record was an ugly one, and when he put up resistance the guard did not hesitate to shoot him inflicting a wound from which he died in a few minutes.

GUNS TO SHOOT 25 MILES.

Being Made for Germans, Returning Americans Heard.

New York, Oct. 14—Adolph F. Gall an engineer in the Edison laboratories who arrived here yesterday on the Scandinavian American liner Hellig-Olav said that Germany was building (a) number of guns which would make the 16-inch siege guns that were used against Liege, Namur and Antwerp "look like bean blowers."

The guns according to Mr. Gall, will have a calibre of 50.02 and 55 centimeters (19.50 and 21.45 inches. They are being being rushed to completion at the Krupp plant in Essen he said. He added:

"The new guns will shoot from 21 to 25 miles. The Germans plan to supplant the present batteries of 16 inch guns with these and then mount the old guns on the battleships

3,000 TURKS KILLED IN QUAKE

Washington, Oct. 14—More than 3,000 lives were lost in the earthquake in the Province of Konia, Turkey, October 5, according to a cablegram yesterday from Ambassador Morgenthau to the State Department.

Thousands of buildings were destroyed rendering many people homeless.

Ambassador Morgenthau was unofficially requested by the Minister of the Interior of the Turkish Government to solicit help from the people of the United States through the Red Cross and other organizations, as the Turkish people were declared to be so impoverished that they rendered practically no assistance to their suffering compatriots.

BASEBALL RECEIPTS

Smaller Sum Divided Than in Any of World's Series.

Boston, Oct 14—Because of the shortness of the world's baseball series, the club owners and national commission divide a smaller sum than in any world's series since 1910.

The attendance at yesterdays game was 34,363, and the receipts $62,653. Of this sum the players received $33,832.62; the club owners, $22,555.08, and the national commission, $6,265.30

Total attendance for the series was 111,000, receipts, $225,739; players' share, $121,900.94; each club's share, $40,632.58, and the national commission's proportion, $22,573.

As the winners, the Boston players receive 60 per cent of $121,900.94, or $73,140.56, while the Athletics, as losers, profit to the extent of $48,760.38.

Of the Boston Club, 26 players are eligible to share in the prize money, givinig each man $2,813.10, should the money be divided equally.

On the Athletics, 24 players are entitled to divide the losers' end, which would give each Mackman $2,031.68 on a share and share alike basis. The players of neither club have as yet notified the national commission just how the money will be divided. The players receive less money than has fallen to their lot since the series of 1910.

Each of the four umpires receives $1,000, the money coming from the national commission's percentage of the profits.

RESTORES PLEASING PLUMPNESS.

Samose Sold Under Leadbeater's "No Cure No Pay" Plan.

There are a good many people in Alexandria who ardently wish they could find some way of getting fat and plump. While not ill, they are so thin and scrawny that their friends think they cannot be well. In nine cases out of ten this condition can be readily overcome by using the combination of flesh-forming foods known as Samose. This little tablet taken three times a day with the food does wonders in building up good health and restoring the pleasing plumpness that is so desirable.

Leadbeater and Sons have the agency for this preparation and sells it with the promise that if it does not do all that is claimed for it in making people gain in weight and in health, the money will be refunded.

You certainly can afford to try a 50 cent box on this plan, as Samose will cost you nothing unless it gives satisfaction.

BOMBS IN CHURCHES.

Worshippers Stunned by Explosions in New York Edifices.

New York, Oct. 14.—Dynamite bombs were exploded yesterday afternoon and late last night in St. Patrick's Cathedral, in Fifth avenue, and in St. Alphonsus' Roman Catholic Church, in West Broadway near Grand street.

The explosion in the cathedral stunned 50 persons at prayer at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, injured one man and did extensive damage throughout the great structure.

St. Alphonsus' Church was rocked by the force of the explosion of a bomb a few minutes after midnight.

This second outrage against a Catholic Church caused the most intense excitement, not only in the rectory of St. Alphonsus' Church, but throughout the Catholic clergy and laity as soon as the news became known.

It was into St. Alphonsus' Church that Frank Tannebaum, the I. W. W. agitator, led several hundreds of his followers, known as "the army of the unemployed," one night last winter in an attack upon the priests. Police reserves quickly surrounded the church and arrested Tannebaum and 200 of his followers.

One man, Brother Friedland, was injured by the explosion of the bomb in the rectory attached to St. Alphonsus' Church.

He was asleep in the office, and was cut by shattered glass windows, and bruised by falling ceilings. The bomb was so powerful that it smashed all windows for 200 yards around.

Police reserves from the MacDougal street station quickly surrounded the church buildings, and held back the large crowds that gathered.

Detectives who were assigned to the case recalled that the I. W. W. agitators had vowed vengeance on the rector and priests of St. Alphonsus' Church for having caused their arrests.

D. D. D. In Hospitals; Standard Skin Cure

How many hospital patients, suffering the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of skin disease, have been soothed to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands?

That fluid is the famous D. D. D. prescription for eczema.

THE SUPERVISING NURSE of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institute on application), writes regarding a patient. "The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this same soothing, healing fluid?

DR. GEO. T. RICHARDSON frankly writes "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work, D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the liquid is applied. The skin is soothed—calmed—so thoroughly refreshed—delightfully cooled.

All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well as the efficient D. D. D. Skin Soap.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

WHO IS HOLDING BACK THE REPORT?

More than two months ago the State Board of Health sent three of its officials to Alexandria to make a report on the typhoid fever situation. Dr. Waddell who was in charge of the investigation declared that the water supplied by the Alexandria Water Company, was largely responsible for the typhoid epidemic. He made a full report to the State Board of Health with a number of recommendations for the improvement of the water supply. A copy of this report was supplied Dr. Gorman, the city health officer more than six weeks ago. Dr. Gorman refused to make the report public until first authorized by the health committee of City Council of which Mr. Brockett is chairman. The health committee met and discussed the report and refused to make it public until they had presented it with their recommendations to Council. This they promised to do at last night's meeting, but that meeting has come and gone and the report is still kept from the public. In the meantime the people of Alexandria are paying for water that they cannot drink. Let the report be published no matter how damaging it is and let us see what we can do to improve the situation. Who is holding back the report?

EXPLOSIONS IN CATHEDRALS.

While bombs are wrecking gorgeous cathedrals in Europe and destroying or defacing their priceless collections of art, dynamiters are at work attempting to destroy similar places of worship in our own land of peace. One of these death-dealing devices was exploded yesterday under a pew in the St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York, one of the largest and grandest edifices in the country. Fortunately but few persons were in the cathedral at the time and they escaped with slight injuries.

Early last night a bomb was exploded in St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic Church in the same city.

The fiends who placed the explosives in the buildings are unknown to the police, and they will probably never be apprehended.

Such dastardly acts are liable to be committed when hundreds are gathered in these houses of worship. While the sword is not, at present, a menace to people who desire to follow Christian lines, it seems there are other dangers which the well-disposed of this world are required to face.

ENGLAND'S ANXIOUS HOUR.

Not since the days of the Spanish Armada or the time when Napoleon gazed across the English channel with covetous eyes has England faced such a crisis as that which now confronts her. The rapid strides of the Germans which still go on unchecked are placing thorns in the pillows of great and small alike in Britain. During a temporary lull in his purpose to overrun France, the Kaiser is seemingly preparing to attack England. Ostend is undoubtedly his objective point now that he has Antwerp in his grasp. The bright hopes which had been entertained by the allies that the Germans would be compelled to weaken their lines in the west in order to stem the invasion of the east by Russia appear to have been cruelly shattered, the Czar having been reported as defeated and driven back to his own realms.

The world is speculating. Has the British empire, like those of Babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece and Rome, played its part in history?

While the Teuton is menacing her national existence, a rebellion against England has been fomented by Germans in South Africa, and the revolt is growing daily. This additional distress comes at an inopportune time.

A large majority of the people of the United States naturally sympathize with the mother country in her great crisis. It may, however, be her darkest hour which is to precede a glorious dawn.

WOMAN HANGS HERSELF.

Found Dangling From Bedpost Week After Effort to Drown.

Philadelphia, Oct. 14.—Hanging from a bdpost by an improvised noose, the body of Mrs. R. Mary Bordie, a widow, was found yesterday afternoon in her room, at No. 457 East Haines street, Germantown. Several weeks ago Mrs. Bordie attempted to commit suicide by drowning herself in Wissachickon Creek, but was rescued by Park guards.

She retired early Monday night, saying that she was ill. When she failed to appear yesterday Mrs. Mary Stungnell, with whom she resided, made an investigation. The police say Mrs. Bordie was despondent over a love affair. She is survived by an 8-year-old daughter.

The people who get the greatest amount of good out of their telephone are those who talk over it as though face to face.

Courtesy smooths out difficulties and promotes the promptest possible connections.

The operators of the BELL System are trained to be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet with patience and politeness on the part of the telephone users.

The fact that you cannot see the operator or the other party should not cause you to overlook this. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy.

ENERGY IN ATOMS

Likened to Infinite Power in an Infinitesimal Space.

EACH ONE IS A TINY WORLD.

If All Should Burst Their Walls at Once the Universe Would Dissolve in an Instant—A Magic Force That Science is Seeking to Control.

Do you remember when Aladdin had, at last, got down into the cave under the tree, what inexpressible marvels he found around him? But among all the riches of the cave there was only one little dust covered thing that was really worth the risk he had run, because it alone was truly novel and unlike anything else in the world—the necromantic lamp that had the genie for its slave. With that in his possession the poor boy was more powerful than all the monarchs in the world—provided that he knew how to handle the lamp, and that knowledge came to him by accident.

I have just been pondering over some statements by Jean Becquerel, the French physicist, about the contents of the atoms of which matter is composed, and they have forcibly recalled Aladdin's adventures to my mind. The interior of an atom is a little world infinitely more marvelous than the cave that contained the magic lamp, and it conceals powers incomparably greater than that of Aladdin's good genie.

To the scientific imagination the inside of an atom is inversely as wondrous as the starry heavens. It is infinite power packed into infinitesimal space. That, of course, is an exaggeration; but this is a case in which one has to speak in imposing figures, because the facts surpass all ordinary experience.

"The atom," says Jean Becquerel, "is a closed world, or almost closed, and it is that fact which constitutes its individuality."

This "closed world" of the atom is so small that if we could increase the powers of our microscopes a thousandfold we could not render it visible, and yet that minute speck of matter incloses a "solar system" as elaborate as that of the great sun with its planets, and keeps locked up there an energy so colossal that the plainest statements of fact that can be made about it seem like wild dreams.

"The emanation from radium" is substance whose atoms spontaneously give out at least a part of their energy) "is capable of liberating 2,500,000 times more energy than the most violent chemical reaction known."

The world within the atom ordinarily behaves as if it had no concern with the world outside. It is sufficient unto itself. It is a little mediæval China, with closed ports and insurmountable walls all round. Still, a very few atoms, like those of radium, have a tendency to communicate with the outer world by a kind of explosion.

If all atoms should burst their walls simultaneously the whole universe would be dissolved in an instant.

The atoms that do disintegrate pass from change to change. Within their limits the foundations of matter are broken up; the distinctions of the fundamental elements are confounded; things lose their nature and shift into other things; uranium gives birth to radium and to polonium; radium brings forth helium, and the last transformation of polonium that has thus far been observed is into plain lead! It is like a transmigration of atomic souls.

But this is not the only consequence of the opening of the world of the atom. That opening releases energy in forms which we can recognize and which some day perhaps we may be able to utilize.

Atomic energy is the magic lamp that the Aladdin of science has found in nature's secret cave.

One day Aladdin's mother found the rusty lamp where he had cast it aside as useless and thought that she would polish it up. Instantly, at the first vigorous rub, the slave of the lamp stood before her, ready to do her bidding!

The Aladdin of science has not thrown his lamp aside. He knows it is full of magic. He is sure that if he rubs it aright the genie will appear before him, but he has not yet learned the right stroke. And perhaps after all it will be with him as it was with the other Aladdin—accident will teach him the secret.

When that day comes, if ever it does, there will hardly be any limit to the transforming power of man over the world he lives in.—Garrett P. Serviss in New York Journal.

Warned Against Coffee.

Once upon a time people wanted state wide prohibition of coffee. In his book, "London In English Literature," Percy H. Boynton says of the old coffee houses:

"As the number of them increased broadsides appeared against them. One was entitled 'The Woman's Petition Against Coffee,' and it asserted that coffee drinking encouraged idling and talkativeness and led men to trifle away their time, scald their chops and spend their money, all for a little base, black, thick, nasty, bitter, nauseous puddle water!"

Transposed.

He—Then my welfare is of no interest to you? She—Not so much as your farewell would be, Mr. Smithers.—Boston Transcript.

We shall never find the situation where courage and cheerfulness will not avail us more than repining.

ARE YOU A MATHEMATICIAN?

Then Solve This Problem and Win a Prize of $25,000.

The largest single prize offered for a scientific discovery is still going begging. The prize has been open to competition for many years. At first sight the problem for a solution of which the prize is offered looks no more difficult than those with which high school students are familiar, but many of the greatest mathematicians in the world have tried to solve the problem and given it up in despair.

It is known as Fermat's problem. Nearly 300 years ago Fermat, one of the greatest mathematicians who ever lived, stated that the equation $x^n+y^n=z^n$ could not be satisfied by whole numbers when n is an odd prime number different from unity. The problem may be stated in another way—viz, that $x^n+y^n=z^n$ cannot be satisfied when n is any integer greater than 2. The one follows as a logical conclusion from the other.

The Academy of Sciences of Goettingen, Germany, offers a prize of 100,000 marks (about $25,000) for proof of this assertion. This is the prize that is going begging.

Dr. Joseph Bowden, professor of mathematics, Adelphi college, Brooklyn, asked by the Scientific American to state the precise conditions for winning the prize, writes that the Academy of Sciences will not consider any manuscripts sent in, but only proposed solutions printed and offered for sale as monographs, in books on mathematics or in mathematical periodicals. The award will not be made until two years after the publication of the memoir in order that mathematicians may have ample opportunity to test and criticise the solution.

The object of these restrictions is to save the academy from being flooded with undigested manuscrips. It will only consider solutions that have stood the test of some competent editor or publisher in the first place.

FRANCE IN SOUTH AMERICA.

Its Influence in the Melting Pot of the Latin Races.

South America is the melting pot of the Latin races, and the French influence now seems to predominate over that of Spain. Italy is well represented, especially in strong Argentina. Brazil seems to be the most polyglot of them all, for here the native Portuguese is mingled not only with the Spanish and French and English, but a great deal of German. In the south of Brazil 90 per cent of the people speak German, and Portuguese is not always enforced as the language even of the public schools.

The large German colonies here do not affiliate with these people as they do with the Anglo-Saxon brothers of the north. They live to themselves, they retain their own language and customs. In Chile, where there are many English, too, the Germans direct the education of the country. Buenos Aires is close to this Germanic group in southern Brazil and feels its influence, though Argentina seems the most unified and progressive of the republics in point of literary expression and culture.

French influence also is felt in Brazil. Rio de Janeiro itself was founded as a refuge for French Huguenots, though they were afterward driven back. In Paris today one hears that a youth is to emigrate to America, but probably it is to Rio that he is going. There are many French immigrants, and French is required in most of the schools and is next to the native tongue in importance in northern Brazil. Formerly in Brazil Spanish or German always came next to French, but it is said that some of the states now require English as the third language, and that Brazilians are proud of their English.—Christian Science Monitor.

Suspicious.

Ernest Vizetelly, who has published a record of his experiences during the Franco-Prussian war, tells a story to illustrate the popular mania for discovering "treason" that prevailed in Paris.

He says that one day a soldier remarked to a comrade:

"I am sure that the captain is a traitor."

"How's that?" was the rejoinder.

"Well," said the suspicious soldier, "have you not noticed that every time he orders us to march forward we invariably encounter the enemy?"

Executions in Europe.

Methods of putting criminals to death vary. In Europe the guillotine is the mode of execution most generally employed. Austria, Holland and Portugal are the only other countries besides Great Britain where criminals are hanged. In Oldenburg they are shot, in Brunswick they are beheaded, and in Spain they are garroted.—London Telegraph.

Diplomacy.

"You persuaded your husband to join a glee club?"

"Yes," answered Mrs. Biggins; "when he starts to sing at home I can now advise him not to tire his voice, and when he sings in the club I can't hear him."—Washington Star.

Needed Airing.

"What's the matter with you?" demanded Borem hotly. "I've got a right to air my opinions, haven't I?"

"Oh, of course," replied Brightly. "They're so stale and musty they certainly need something of that sort."—Philadelphia Press.

The clothing of our minds certainly ought to be regarded before that of our bodies.—Steele.
